Full Moon Rallye 79 Scavenger Hunt

Saturday August 9, 2025

Instructions given out at 12:30pm

Teams start course at 1 pm

Join us on Saturday, August 9th for the 79th Full Moon Rallye. This walking event will start in the Food Court (on 2nd floor) at Liberty Place (1625 Chestnut Street).

Teams will have four hours to walk around, following instructions & looking for clues, before ending up at the City Tap Logan Square (100 N. 18th Street).

Competitive walking event

Object: find & answer the most clues

- Travel around downtown Philly
- Look for different types of clues as you walk (about three miles)
- Do not need to be familiar with area
- NOT a speed event
- Four-hour time limit
- Afternoon event
- Teams of two can enter
- Time to hang out at finish
- Medals for top 3 teams + winner gets Cup

A rallye is basically a scavenger hunt on foot. Each team (of 2 people) is given a list of directions that they must follow to navigate through the course (e.g. Turn left at Wawa, or proceed straight until you come to a statue of Shakespeare). Along the way, the teams have to find answers to questions (e.g. Where do you find a $1.99 Super Hoagie?, or Who built the Shakespeare statue?). There are different types of questions with different point values (the harder ones are worth more). The team that answers the most questions correctly wins! The course is designed to be walked in less than two hours, so there should be no need to hurry - unless you are going way too slow. Along the way, your team may also have to buy certain items (called retrievables) to prove you were at a location, or to be used later in the rallye.

This rallye will again benefit the Idiopathic Ridiculopathy Consortium, whose mission is to bring classic absurdist theatre to an international audience in the Philadelphia region. These rarely-produced, renowned plays explore and illuminate human purpose and meaning, promoting reflection about the human condition in a contemporary world.
